S. M. PETTINGILL & CO.
37 Park Row, New York, 10 State st., Boston, and 701 Chestnut st., Philadelphia, are Agents for the Jacksonville Republican in the above cities, and authorized to contract for advertising at our lowest rates.

The attention of all old Mexican soldiers in this country is invited to the call of Mr. John R. Coffey in this issue.

Mr. M. Driskell, who has a farm about one mile and a half West of this place, has raised one stalk of corn which is nine feet ten inches to the ear; and another stalk which measured eight and a half inches in circumference. His entire crop of corn this year is excellent.

HOG AND CHILD.—Another Nashville hog seized another colored three year old infant yesterday morning, and lacerated its leg.

Courier Journal.

Jacksonville also has a wild and untamed sow. Within the last month she has raked two of the young 'uns over the coals—nearly putting out the light of the youngest and first attacked. Her owner will make bacon of her next winter.

Our Job Printer, Mr. P. A. W. KEE, has recently executed some very handsome flourished and curved line Bill and Letter Heads for W. T. & C. S. Alexander, with which they were much pleased. We would like for our friends who need such work, to see specimens. No need to send to cities from this section. Encourage Home Industry.

In answer to our call for information on the subject of religious meetings throughout the county, Mr. Wm. Crow informs us that the Baptist meeting at Oak Grove Church on Olathe, lasted ten days, and that there were about fifteen conversions. Ten of these were baptized, and five others are waiting to join other churches.

We return thanks to Mr. Lennie Grant Hames for the largest pear laid upon our table this year. It is the product of a dwarf tree some four feet high, and weighs eleven ounces and measures fourteen inches in circumference.

The young man informs us that he has succeeded in raising many such, this year, with the help of his father.

Last Monday the junior editor of the Republican spent the day in Oxford. The city had greatly improved since his last visit, and trade was as good as could be expected at the time of the year. When the Fall season opens up right, the Oxford merchants intend making a fine display of goods and drive a brisk trade at little profits. Two or three of them have promised to let the county know when this thing commences through the columns of the Republican. We ask our readers to look out for the Oxford advertisements and then "go for" the advertisers.

We are this year better prepared with fine book and colored paper, &c., to print Baptist Minutes in a satisfactory manner than ever before, and at prices that cannot be obtained from any other printing establishment in the cities or elsewhere. Clerks of Associations are invited to call or correspond with us. We hope to do again this year the printing for all the Associations that have heretofore favored us, as also many new Associations within reach of Jacksonville. Remember that we have great facilities for the execution of this description of work.

We this week, in anticipation of the season, insert the card of Mr. W. G. Ledbetter, with the house of John Read & Co.

Mr. Ledbetter is now in New York, and will attend to any business sent him by order, or he will be glad to meet merchants from this section, (to all of whom he is most favorably known), when they visit New York this season, and be of service to them in the purchase of such articles as are kept by John Read & Co.

Mr. Ledbetter is one of the most obliging and intelligent young men from this State, now doing business in New York, and parties may freely and without fear make orders through him.

E. M. Hagland, late of the North Alabama Reporter, proposes starting a new paper in Huntsville.

EARTHQUAKES.

A Heavy Shock Felt at San Jose, Reaching as Far as San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 29.

A heavy shock of earthquake was felt at the Mission, San Jose, at 4 o'clock this afternoon, causing a good deal of excitement, but resulting in no damage. The shock was quite heavy at Redwood City and other towns in Santa Clara Valley, South of this point, but was very slight in San Francisco.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 29.

The night express, west, on the Detroit and Milwaukee Railroad, consisting of baggage car, two passenger coaches, one sleeping car and two emigrant cars, last night became disabled in consequence of the engine throwing off a driving wheel about a mile east of Muir. It was followed by the through freight train which ran into the rear passenger car, killing four women and one child and injuring ten other persons. Medical assistance was at once procured from Muir. None injured are dangerously wounded.

CAIRO, Aug. 29.

William Campbell was hanged for murder. The fall broke his neck and he died almost instantly.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 29.

Advices from Fort Sill say that Gen. Davidson has left that Fort to operate against the Indians, leaving only three companies to garrison the Fort. Much apprehension exists here that the report of the massacre may be true.

CAIRO, Aug. 29.

A gravel pit caving near the village of Ridge in Illinois killed five persons.

HALIFAX, Aug. 29.

Dispatches from Sydney report 30 vessels driven ashore; many buildings prostrated; crops throughout the country devastated, and washed away. The tidal wave was 10 feet high. Fifty vessels at Cow Bay are all ashore. The Conard steamer Alpha was there with steam up, anchors down and succeeded in holding down the breakwater, but she is badly damaged. The destruction to shipping at Cow Bay is frightful.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 29.

A special dispatch from Waco, Texas, says the stage driver brings news that a large body of Indians surprised and captured Fort Sill, Indian territory, massacring the women and children, and nearly one-half of the 4th United States cavalry. Associated Press at New Orleans has telegraphed for an explanation of this report.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 19.

Showalter, who cut his wife's throat fatally with a razor and then his own fingers at the hospital. He is very violent and is straight jacketed. The crime originated from unknown cause. He studied medicine and graduated at New York. Mrs. Showalter, then a widow, was a matron of a Confederate Hospital at Petersburg where Showalter was assistant surgeon. He contracted the small pox. The lady nursed him. Hospital surgeons say Showalter was perfectly sane when brought to the hospital last night. Mrs. Showalter was a Miss Carter, of Lancaster county, Va.

LITTLE ROCK, Aug. 29.

Judge Elisha Meers, of 10th Judicial Circuit Court, Clarksville, Johnson county, was mortally wounded while going home to dinner and died at one o'clock.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 29.

Dr. Showalter, who cut his wife's and his own throat, is dead.

GLOUCESTER, MASS., Aug. 29.

One hundred thousand dollar fire here, including the Cape Ann Advertiser.

ST. LOUIS, September 2.

Cholera is raging at Okonoville, (7) Ill., on the St. L. & S. E. Railroad, 28 miles from here. In 12 hours there were 23 deaths—5 in one family, dying within 3 hours. Some cases resulted in death in 15 minutes—turning black immediately. Medical aid will be sent for from neighboring places. The citizens are fleeing and the can't-go-aways are disinfecting and burning tar in the streets.

LEXINGTON, KY., Sept. 2.

The cholera at Paris and at Millersburg is the most malignant ever known. Every case at Millersburg has proved fatal. Eighteen deaths were reported there in 24 hours, and 20 new cases. Eight deaths are reported at Stanford.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2.

The new masonic temple was thrown open last evening to the officers of the Knights Templars and the Grand Lodges. The various rooms were brilliantly lighted, and spectators were charmed with the gorgeous display.

TORONTO, Sept. 2.

The marine and fishing department, received a dispatch from Magdalen Island, stating that fifty vessels, American and British, were wrecked in the gale of the 21st ult.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 28.

The Eastern Express train last night collided with a freight train standing on the track 15 minutes behind time, at Mountville. The engineer of the Express train was killed, and the mail agent and a lady passenger were injured.

BOSTON, Aug. 28.

Wm. Boyce, of Boyce & Sons, hatters, and President of Lynn National Bank, cut his throat in a bath tub at the United States Hotel.

SUREVEYOR, Aug. 28.

The steamer Ruby swamped and one hundred cattle were drowned. The crew escaped.

WICITA, KAN., Sept. 2.

A stage leaving Fort Sill, Aug. 28th reports the massacre a hoax. No trouble was had with the Indians at Fort Sill, or on the route.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 2.

The steamer Jay Cooke ran down a yawl containing nine persons, of whom four were drowned.

THE CHOLERA.

IN KNOXVILLE, TENN. [Special Dispatch to the Courier Journal.] NASHVILLE, TENN., Aug. 28.—In consequence of the continued presence of cholera or choleraic disease at Knoxville, the regular term of the Supreme Court for the Eastern Division of the State will not be held September 8, and it will be adjourned until some time next year. Such is the general wish of the Tennessee bar.

EVANSVILLE, IND., Aug. 28.—One case of cholera occurred yesterday in market. A farmer from Posey county died after a few hours illness.

To the Survivors of the 1st Regt.

Ala. Volunteers, Mexican War.

PACKER, Jackson Co., Ala.

Sept. 6, 1873.

Gentlemen:

I take pleasure, in obedience to a request made at a meeting of the survivors of Company F at Scottsboro July 4th 1873, to make public a proposition, in order to organize a National Brotherhood, that the survivors of the Regiment enroll, hold primary meetings and send to Birmingham Ala., on the 1st Monday next, say one delegate from each company, and there appoint delegates to a National Convention to be held at the city of Washington, on the 15th day of January, 1874.

It may be proper to consider the subject of Pensions, and the steps to be taken for the Centennial celebration of the Nation's birthday, at Philadelphia, on the 4th day of July 1876. As I cannot expect ever to see you again, I wish to say that I heartily approve the proposition, and whilst our old comrades in arms and veterans are working in the same direction in other sister States, I hope the few veterans now living of our old Regiment and others of Alabama, of that war, will not wait their part in this, perhaps: their last effort together.

With the kindest regard for each and all of you, I remain,

Truly Your Friend,

JOHN R. COFFEY

Papers in the counties of Greene, Talladega, Calhoun, Perry, Mobile, Jackson, DeKalb and Montgomery, will please give publicity to the above.

Our valiantumbrum being told by his medical adviser that he must wear thick boots, replies that when a fellow has to walk through so much water, pumps would be more appropriate.

Our friend Ray—tells an anecdote about old Captain Savage who lived in this county three years ago. The old Captain weighed about 300 lbs. avoided poisons and was sadly given to swearing. He attended a camp meeting in Cypress in the month of August. After an affecting appeal by the preacher, mourners were invited, the Captain went to the mourner's bench, and prostrated himself in the straw, and began to cry lustily for shouting; coming to the Captain, said: "Captain how do you feel, ain't you happy?" "No," said the old Captain. "I am as hot as h—l, fan me!" Florence Times.

Many years ago a Mr. Beckford presented a bill to the House of Commons for preventing bribery and corruption at elections, in which was a clause to oblige every member to swear, on his admission to the house, that he had not, directly or indirectly, given a bribe to any elector. This clause was so universally opposed, as answering no other end but that of perjury, that Mr. Beckford was compelled to withdraw it. Mr. Thurlow opposed this bill in a long speech, to which Mr. Beckford very smartly replied. "The honorable gentleman," said he, "in his learned discourse, gave us another definition of corruption, then he gave us another definition of it, and I think he was about to give us a third. Pray does the gentleman imagine there is a single member of the house that does not know what corruption is?"

PERMANENT SUCCESS.

A bad article may be pulled into temporary notoriety, but they soon die. Good ones, once tried, prove themselves, and live. The evidence of merchants everywhere shows that among the purest and most reliable remedies of the day are numbered Magic Amica Liniment, for quick cure of aches and pains, and all diseases that can be reached by external means.

Hungarian Balsam of Life, a combination of valuable herbs, with English wood naphtha, for affections of the throat and lungs.

La Creole Hair Restorer, a safe and natural stimulant and invigorator for the hair, restoring the color without dyeing, and an admirable preservative dressing for the head.

Nashville, Tenn., March 10, 1871. Messrs. Mitchell & Phipps: GENTLEMEN: We sold "this and works" of your Magic Amica Liniment, and a good deal of your Hungarian Balsam of Life, and La Creole Hair Restorer. We will do the best we can to introduce your goods to our customers, believing, as we do, that they are good, if not better than any in the market.

Yours truly,

The Spectator of Worcester, Massachusetts, is our table. We have a good word to say for this publication—it is such a wholesome look—so wide awake, so lively and entertaining, yet always so chaste and refined. It is a regular little good-buddy, too, as compared between its numbers will prove. We learn that the firm of S. S. Wood & Co., dissolved in March last, the "Co." (S. E. Shutes, Mayor of Newburgh), retaining possession of the magazine, and receding H. V. Osborne (Temeron) as Editor. So, though the publication changed hands, it has not suffered from the management of a new publisher or new editor, but under the redoubled efforts of its energetic proprietor, has gained new force and new attractiveness. Price only one dollar a year. Address: Wood's Household Magazine, Newburgh, N. Y.

From the Saturday Evening Gazette.

It is impossible to find a place in this broad land where "Pain-Killer" is not known as a most valuable remedy for physical pain. In the country, miles from physician or apothecary, the Pain-Killer is cherished as the exclusive panacea, and it never deceives.

Undeveloped Vigor.

The feeble and debilitated usually fancy they are in a more hopeless condition than they really are. The resources of nature are not easily exhausted. Even when strength and appetite fail, when the eyes are heavy and listless, the complexion pallid, the nerves tremulous, the body attenuated, and the mind depressed, there is generally a reserve of latent power behind such palpitating evidences of weakness. Various modes of treatment are resorted to by physicians in the hope of developing and rendering available this store of sleeping vitality, but the surest, and indeed the only thoroughly safe and certain means of awakening the dormant energies of the system is a course of Foster's Stomach Bitters. Electricity, shower baths, the flesh brush, sea bathing, &c., may be well enough in their way, as auxiliaries, but they do not reach the source of the evil. All physical debility proceeds either from a derangement of the functions of the assimilating, excretory and vital organs, or from a sluggish constitution. In either case, and also in cases where both causes exist, the Bitters will invariably produce an immediate and salutary change in the condition of the patient, and eventually affect a complete cure. None of the dangerous alkalis, too often administered as tonics, can be otherwise than deleterious under such circumstances, and to give mercury is positively criminal. The direct effect of the great vegetable specific will be manifested in an improved appetite, a more cheerful frame of mind, gradual return of strength, and increase of flesh, and a healthier complexion. Meanwhile, however, the constitution, if inert and feeble, will have been roused and renovated by the subtle elements of invigoration contained in the Bitters. Sept. 6-1m.

During the summer season of 1873, the Missouri Pacific Railroad will sell Excursion Tickets from St. Louis to Denver and return, at very low rates of fare, and a rare opportunity is thereby offered, for lovers of nature to view the beautiful scenery and health-inspiring climate of the Parks of the Rocky Mountains.

Kansas, with its boundless and fertile plains, is directly on the route, and together with all the other Western States and Territories, is reached by the Missouri Pacific Railroad and its connections.

Texas connection of this road is now completed, and passengers are offered a first class all-rail route from St. Louis to Texas, either over the Missouri, Kansas & Texas R. ## TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

METHODIST SUNDAY SCHOOL, JACKSONVILLE, ALA.

MISS ELLA LAIRD, one of the most faithful, earnest laborers in our Sunday school, died after a protracted illness, Aug. 19, 1873, aged 20 years.

Another link in the jeweled chain of affection is broken—another voice is hushed—once more our aged and beloved Superintendent, whose armor seemed almost catching the flash of eternity's sun, has seen another of his little band pass over before him, and join our Angel Sunday School in singing the "New, new song," that shall one day welcome him to glory. God crowns the true workers of time, and often calls those earliest, who seem most needed here; yet he is too wise to err, too loving to chasten, save for good. As a school we resolve to cherish the memory of our gentle, patient sister; imitate her piety, and redouble our energies in the great work in which she has been taken; also, that we tender our heartfelt sympathy to her sorrowing family.

We pray God, that as one by one we are called away, our trust may be as firm, our end as peaceful as sister Ella's; and that we may as beautifully illustrate in life and death, as she, the quaint, sweet old words of Rutherford: "He that looketh unto the white side of Christ's cross, and taketh it up cheerfully, findeth it such a burden to him as wings are to a bird."

JACKSONVILLE, ALABAMA.

SATURDAY, SEPT. 13th, 1873.

A Liberal Proposition.

The next being a year of general elections, we desire to increase the circulation of our paper, and to assist in the accomplishment of this object, we now make the following proposition:

To all new subscribers, who will pay the advance price $2, we will furnish the Republican until the close of the year 1874; and we will do the same for all our present subscribers who pay up arrears and one year in advance. They will thus obtain from this time the paper for more than fifteen months, for the advance price of one year. We will also, if desired, furnish "World's Household Magazine," an able and interesting monthly, of unexceptionable moral tone, for one year, for the payment of 50 cents extra.

This proposition will be kept open while there is any advantage in it.

The Democratic party, co-operating with the anti-monopoly party in California, have won a glorious victory in the recent election in that State. Owing to the fact that many of the Radical State Senators held over, the choice for United States Senator will probably fall upon a Radical.

The Texas Democratic State Convention nominated Richard Coke, of Waco, for Governor, amid great enthusiasm. Col. Hubbard, his strongest opponent for the nomination of Governor, was declared unanimously the nominee for Lt. Governor, the Convention in this following the example of the Virginia Convention. Stephen H. Darden, of Lenoir, was declared the unanimous choice of the Convention for Comptroller. A sound platform was adopted, and the back pay grab was denounced.

Last week we announced that the Male and Female Institutions of Learning at this place, under the single management of Col. Lockett and associates, had opened with eighty-five students, which number had swelled to ninety-five by the day the Republicans went to press. It is our pleasure to be able to state now that the number up to Thursday evening had reached one hundred and fifteen. Thursday is the latest day we can report to. It is more than probable that others have come in since, as we know others are expected.

WHY DO THE HEATHEN RAGE.—Lad. die Williams, a negro member of the Legislature, has been soundly abusing the white-negro associates through the Mobile War, human, the negro organ of the State. Lad. die says the blacks must never cease pursuing these evil creatures, until we have unmasked and driven them to the obscure from which they spring. According to this view, the Whites don't have to be chased, exactly, and things begin to look as though the White-Negroes may yet be crushed between the White Man's party and the Black Man's party.

We have received the first and second numbers of the Mobile Daily News, a new daily paper just started in Mobile, with the name of W. W. Beasley flying at its mast-head as proprietor. Rumor says that Reuben Nelson, Esq., for many years editor of the Mobile Mercury and later for many years on the staff of the Mobile Register, is the editor-in-chief of the Daily News. The paper is very handsomely printed, gives every evidence of enterprise in its "get-up," and is, of course, well edited. The proprietor, Mr. Beasley, learned his art in the Republican office, is a capital printer, and a ways carries with him our warmest wishes for his success.

GASTON, the Democratic nominee for Governor of Massachusetts, is very popular, and the representative of the young or progressive Democracy. It is said that many of the Radical opponents of Butler will vote for Gaston in event Butler receives the nomination for Governor at the hands of the coming Radical Convention. It is also said that if Butler is nominated, there will be a bolt in the Radical party of Massachusetts, headed by Washburne, the rival of Butler for gubernatorial honors. The race will then be a three-cornered one, Butler receiving the vote of that part of the Radical party to which he has given courage and organization, Washburne receiving the vote of the old Whig dynasty of the State, Gaston receiving the vote of the Democracy solid and of such Radicals as will not vote at all for Butler or a bolting candidate. But even in event of a split in the Radical party, Gaston could hardly come in, far to admit a Democrat, the Radicals would have to be nearly equally divided—an event not likely to occur. If Washburne should be nominated, as now seems likely, it remains to be seen what old Butler will do.

After the above was put in type, the Convention met, Butler counted noses, saw he could not be nominated, and contrary to the expectation of all, withdrew from the race. Washburne was then unanimously nominated.

Howard Lime and Cement Works.

We neglected last week, upon the insertion of the advertisement of these works to call special attention to it as we intended. Since then we have used several barrels of it, and the workman, who is a good judge, pronounces it of excellent quality in every respect. Mr. Waring, the proprietor, does not exaggerate in his recommendation; and will fill all orders with promptitude and dispatch.

Mr. L. J. Williams, a negro member of the Legislature from Montgomery county, writes to the Radical paper in Mobile as follows:

"We have been in the past like dumb driven cattle, forced to do the bidding of unscrupulous, dishonest and traitorous, office-seeking Republicans, but the future such things cannot be. We intend to have an equal voice in all things where we are equally interested, and to perform an equal part as we will. So far as the colored man is concerned, I can see but very little difference between those who have control of the State government now and those that had it a year ago. The injustice of Republican officials has driven us to this, and sink or swim live or die, we are forced to do so. We have no hands to this, never cease pursuing these vile creatures until we have unmasked and driven them to the obscurity from which they spring."

Lad. die Williams has our full permission to go for the Radical whites, just as he pleased. But there is a "difference" between those who control the State government now and those who had it a year ago. Then Treasurer Grant was not dealing in State warrants. Then the schools were kept for all. Then New York brokers were not afraid to trust to the credit of Alabama. Then we had not a Governor who was, like Lewis, good for just nothing at all.—Let Lad. die and his friends look at the present condition of affairs and try to answer this question: What benefit has the white or black man ever received from the Radical party in Alabama? If they will answer this question, we may hope for some improvement in them; but we fear they are sold to white, Parsons & Co., and we had as well let them alone.

Address of Grand Worthing Chief Templar J. W. H. Underwood, to the Good Templars of Georgia.

Order of the G. W. T. U. 1873, Ga., Sept. 8, 1873.

To the Independent Order of Good Templars of Georgia:—The Right W. G. L. of the World having, by their recent action at London, decided in effect that in our State, as well as elsewhere in the world, the colored man should be excluded from all the privileges and rights of the Order, it becomes our duty to face to face the issue, and advise ourselves as early as possible from all connection with the Right Worthing Grand Lodge of the World. By our Constitution the Order in this State is a white man's Order, and we cannot afford to affiliate with those who hold differently, and in my judgment, we ought not to do so if we could. Mr. T. S. Cox, a resident of Macon, visiting Rome, had a most remarkable dream last Sunday. He was in this office Monday morning and repeated it at that time about as follows: "He dreamed that his house in West Macon, occupied by his wife and family, was entered Sunday evening and a certain bureau drawer robbed of some silver ware, and that a woman committed the theft, that she was a dark-complexioned, dark-haired, blue-eyed woman, and a stranger to him. Yesterday morning he received a letter from his wife confirming his dream, and that a package of silver spoons was stolen from the bureau drawer sometime during Sunday afternoon. The package contained a small party was also given which coincided with his dream. This is no fancy sketch. The dream was repeated to us early Monday morning and the letter from Mrs. Cox was received yesterday morning.—Home Companion.

THE STATE OF ALABAMA.

Probate Court of (William County). State of Ala. Date, Dec.

LETTERS Testamentary under the last Will and Testament of said deceased, having been granted to the undersigned, on the 9th day of Sept., 1873, by the Hon. A. Wood, Judge of the Probate Court of Alabama County, Ala. Notice is hereby given that all persons having claims against said Estate will be required to present the same within the time allowed by law, or the same will be barred.

JOHN M. PATTERSON, Executor.

Sept. 12, 1873.—Gt.

THE STATE OF ALABAMA.

Court of Probate for said County, September 10th, 1873.

THIS day came William W. McGlathery, as Administrator, and Mrs. L. A. McGlathery as Administratrix of the goods and estate of Giles B. McGlathery, deceased, and present, and filed in court their petition in writing, representing among other things, that said deceased died seized and possessed of the following described lands, to-wit: Being situated in Etowah County, to-wit: The south east fourth of section 24; and the south east fourth of section 2; and the east half of south east fourth of section 25; and Fraction "C" of said section 25; also some money and other personal property, to-wit: $100.00, and Fractions "A" and "B" of section 26; all in Township 12 of Range 6. Also the south west fourth of the south west fourth of the south west fourth of the south east fourth of section 20, Township 12, Range 7; and the north half of the north west fourth of the south west fourth of the south west fourth of the south east fourth of section 21, Township 12, Range 7; all lying and being in Etowah County, and east in the County Land District, in said State of Alabama.

Petitioners further allege, that Samuel H. McGlathery, who is an heir and distributee of said estate and who resides beyond the limits of the State of Alabama, to-wit: This county State of Texas, post office, Lone Star, Texas, has not appeared in court, and that said lands cannot be equitably divided among the heirs at law of said estate without a sale of the same; whereupon it is ordered by the Court, that the 25th day of October next be set to hear and determine said petition, and that citations issue to all the resident heirs and distributees of said Estate, and that notice be given to the said Samuel H. McGlathery, by publication in the Jacksonville Herald, for three consecutive weeks, prior to said day, notifying them to be and appear at a Special Term of said Court, to be held at the Court House of said County, on said 25th day of October next, 1873, and defend against said petition if they think proper.

Sept. 12, 1873.—Gt. Probate.

It is estimated that the cotton worm will take off a third of the cotton crop of Calhoun. Nobody using worm destroyer that we have heard of.

CORRECTION.—In the Court Directory on the outside, it ought to read Court in Calhoun two weeks
instead of three weeks, as it now reads.

Jacksonville Post Office has an abundance of postal cards. The office will be moved next door to the Republican office. The P. M.
says that he sends off on an average 200 letters daily, mailed at Jack-

Interesting to Merchants.

The wholesale Boot & Shoe house of
M. P. COVAN & Co., Rm. 6, have received their Fall Stock, which is unusually large. They propose to sell to Merchants at New York prices.
This is no boast. They are reliable, and from what we know of them, we believe
they will do it every time.

They will have an agent with samples
here in a few days. 4t.

W. R. Hubbard, Jr., a son of
W. R. Hubbard, Jr., living some six miles south of this place, died at his father's residence Tuesday the 26th of Aug., after an illness of four days, and was brought here
for interment. He is described as a boy of uncommon promise, and
his death is greatly to be deplored.
The sorrowing relatives have our heartfelt sympathy.

During the past week a protracted meeting has been going on in the M. E. Church, under the direction of Rev. Mr. Thompson, the station minister. He had for a portion of the time the assistance
of Rev. Anson West, of Gadsden;
but that gentleman was called home
suddenly to the bedside of a daughter sick with diphtheria. Her condition improving it is the intention of Mr. West to come over again
and assist in the further prosecution of the meeting.

Old Foote, who has been abusing
Mr. Davis lately through the loyal columns of the Washington Chronicle, is to be paid for his dirty work
by an office somewhere in South America.

Of Senator Ames, the carpeting candidate for Governor of Mississippi, Senator Alcorn says:
"I declare him to be, in my judgment, the most vindictive man in Congress against the Southern whites. God grant that we may be delivered from his grasp, from
the ruin which he has in store for us all!"

To avert this, I have announced
myself as a candidate for Governor of your State. I am a Republican of the true faith; I have not lost my faith. I have only turned my plunderer and thief. Come with me, men of Mississippi! You love your State; who would sell her from bondholders; who would save her from Ames! Come and help me save our wives and little ones from the "body of death!" Come and let us excite a lasting bond of friendship
between the white people and the black people, and let us drive from the State the political incendiary,
who comes to make war between
people, who comes to rob us,
and spit upon us, and leave us
and grant the deliverance!"

A Bride of a Week Inhabits Her Lands in the Blood of Her Brother-in-Law.

[Bucksport (Ky.) Courier, 5th]
The family and all feeling which have existed between Jasper and Clay Watkins (two brothers) for a year or two past have at last terminated in the death of the latter. It is remembered that we made mention
of shooting of Clay by Jasper on Wednesday last week in our last issue. It is not known positively whether Jasper fired, and whether he shot at or his wife, as both were upon the scene when the shot came. At any rate, Clay, as he was leaving his mother's house, received the contents of a double-barrel shot-gun in the hands of either Jasper or his wife. The lead took him in the back, and would in all probability have proved fatal. But it seems that Jasper was proved false. Clay did not recover. So on Friday morning
last week Jasper and his wife went over to his mother's house and Jasper got into a quarrel with his brother Clay, and they
exchanged a few moments upon some subject, Jasper's wife, who had taken a seat near the side of her wounded brother-in-law, after a few moments, got up, and
drawing a revolver which she concealed under her clothing, and walking up within two feet of Clay, drew her revolver and fired on him, the shot penetrating the heart, killing him almost instantly.

Jasper's wife is but a mere girl, being only about sixteen or seventeen years of age, and she has been married but a week when she imposed her hands in the blood of her brother-in-
law. Jasper and his wife were arrested and brought to town on Saturday, and kept under guard at the hotel. The trial doubtless will be held in a few days. After the evidence is heard we hope to be able to give our readers
the particulars of this unfortunate affair.

WORCESTER, Sept. 4.

The following are the resolutions
adopted by the Democratic Convention:

Resolved, That the Democratic party seeks to revive no dead issues, but stands by its principles,
which are suited to all times and circumstances. It supports the Federal Government in all constitutional authority, and regards at this day as Jefferson did in his day
the true province of republican government to be the protection of the rights of the people, and not of the interests of monopolists. It defends the reserved rights of the States and of the people, and opposes a centralization that would impair or destroy the constitutional rights, or the independence of other departments, as the Executive and Legislative Departments, under Radical rule, have done in
over-slaughting the honest opinions of the Supreme Court of the United States by increasing their numbers
and the appointments of new Judges,
who are subservient to executive and legislative will. It opposes all interference by law with
the private affairs or business of men
not required by the public safety,
and advocates the greatest individual liberty consistent with public order. It believes in the capacity of people for self-government;
holds that the nearest approximation that can be made to universal free trade, the greater will be the advantage of the Federal Government to the people of Massachusetts;
it insists on the substitution of
a banking system that shall not cost the people a higher percentage
to create a currency in a few hands
to loan at their own price to the industrial masses than any other people pay for money loans where-
to to unfold their enterprises and compensate the labors of the nation, and opposes all legislation
that places railroads or any corporations beyond the jurisdiction of the people through their legislatures.

Resolved, That intervention by the Federal Administration in State politics for the benefit of its favorites and the advancement of its interests is notoriously felt in this Commonwealth, is hostile to the freedom and purity of elections, and insults to the popular intelligence and merits the indignant reprobation of a people jealous of their rights.

Resolved, That the time has now arrived for regulating the hours of labor in manufacturing establishments to 10 hours for a day or 60
hours per week for women and children, and that this convention
pledges itself to support such legislation as will secure the enactment
of such a law.

The remaining resolutions are the same as those adopted by the Ohio State Conservative Convention of August 6th.

Destructive Fire in Havana—25 Lives Lost.

HAVANA, September 7.—Last night a square of buildings known as Plaza Vapor was reduced to ashes. It broke out simultaneously in four corners of the square, and is supposed to have been the work of incendiaries. The loss is estimated at $8,000,000. It is reported that twenty lives were lost.
The scenes around the burning square
were exciting and terrible. Parents threw their children from balconies to save them from the flames.

A Modern Claude Lorraine.

MEMPHIS, Sept. 7.—Some ten days since quite an excitement was created in the eastern suburbs by the arrest of J. E. White, a prominent citizen, on the charge of horse-stealing, and within a few days no
less than a dozen specific charges
for similar offenses were made public. He was remanded to jail without bail. This afternoon his wife called to see him, and spent a half an hour with him, then came to the gate and asked to be let out.
When the guard opened the gate
White presented a cocked revolver
at his head, and said, "Let me out or die!" The guard sprang back, and White darting out, mounted a horse in waiting, and dashed off before the alarm was given. Pursuit
was instituted as early as possible,
but up to dark he had not been recaptured. His wife had carried the revolver enveloped in her panier, and had the horse in waiting.
She was arrested.

Special to the Daily Advertiser.

COLUMBUS, Sept. 8.

Phillips' party returned from Florida, whither they went to meet Waddell's party. Latter did not go but are here. All is quiet,
though some apprehend a personal
difficulty.

St. LOUIS, Sept. 8.

A special dispatch from Sedalia
says: The Ohio railroad train robbers who have been flitting about in some of the western counties of this State are together again except McCoy. The detectives have information that another bank robbery is being planned by them to be carried out as soon as McCoy joins the gang. All the banks in that part of the State are being closely watched by special officers,
and efforts are constantly being
made to capture these desperadoes.
The Republican has a special from

Jefferson City saying this gang is now in Clay county and threatening to burn out certain parties who have been active in their efforts to arrest them. Gov. Woodson is reported to have declared that if the local authorities and citizens do not exhibit a stronger disposition to arrest these outlaws he will send an armed force after them.

New York, Sept. 8.

The balloon for the trans-Atlantic voyage is ready to start on Wednesday and last night exhibited to the public.

An unusually large meeting was held at Centar today, to favor
the release of the Fenian prisoners.
The tug boat Vixen, Capt. Daniel
Perkins, was run into by the steamer,
Granite State in Hellgate at 1 o'clock this a. m. and cut in
two. Capt. Perkins was drowned.
The engineer was picked up by another boat and landed, when he was found to be badly hurt about the head.

Mrs. Merrigan is reported to have confessed to the police of Willamsburg that she murdered Mrs.
Samill on Wednesday evening last.
Money was the motive. The body
was placed under a bed and remained there till Thursday evening when Mrs. Merrigan set fire to the room in which the body was subsequently discovered mangled and scorched.

The police have found Mrs. Irving, the wife of John T. Irving, the self-confessed accomplice in the murder of Nathan.

AUSTIN, Sept. 8.

Conflicting reports come in regarding the prevalence of yellow fever at Galveston, Houston and Shreveport. It is reported that the Central, National and Great Northern and Texas and Pacific Railroads have been blockaded, but it is impossible to ascertain anything of a reliable character. A perfect panic prevails in Galveston and Houston, and the northward bound trains to-day and last night were crowded with people flying from both places.

New York, Sept. 8.

Morris Pepp, arrested in Trenton for setting fire to the Fashion-
ables, has made a full confession.
John Aconcel, aged 16, while asleep on the roof of a six story
building at No. 9 Mulberry street,
rolled off to the sidewalk and was almost instantly killed.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 7.

The following was received here
yesterday from Shreveport: "Owing to a prevailing malignant fever
and the consequent panic in the country, our city has been quarantined by interior police, and trade
is consequently paralyzed."

New York, Sept. 9.

The balcony which fell in Wil-
lamsburg last night was 70 feet
long and fell two stories to the sidewalk, carrying nearly 100 people.
The 71st Regiment of this city had been visiting the 47th Regiment
and were returning home, the streets being filled with thousands of people. Just as the last two companies of the 71st Regiment were opposite the balcony it gave way, dropping those in it on the heads of the people below. The military immediately halted, laid down their arms and rushed to the assistance of the people. Those who were hurt were taken to a convenient hospital. Twenty were injured, including Miss Williams, and Miss Van Dyke fatally and Daniel Brown seriously. Many others were scratched and bruised. It is said that many of the ladies who were injured were robbed of watches and jewelry by thieves and many had their pockets picked. The cause of the accident was defective
iron works.

CHARLESTON, Sept. 9.

Some excitement was caused
here to-day by a band of negro attacks who visited the principal millars in the city and by threats of violence forced the hands to strike for $2.50 per day. The employers, declining to pay this rate the millars have been closed and nearly two thousand laborers are out of employment.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.

A special agent of the post office department at Warrenton, Va., is investigating the charge that the Republicans have used official postage stamps for franking political documents.

The Republicans carried Maine
by about 11,000. Their majority last year was 16,537.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9.

John Irving has made a written statement to detective officer Lees
in which he insists upon the truth
of his former statement and will swear to it before a Judge of one of the Courts to-morrow. Lees will forward the statement to New York. Irving says that with proper guarantees for his safety
in New York he will produce Nathan's memorandum books and books taken from his office on the night of the murder.

Died, on the 2nd day of Sept. 1873, in

RHEUMATISM AND NEURALGIA.

For these two complaints the Magic Arnieo Liniment surpasses itself. It seems to penetrate to the very seat of the disease and effect a cure. It will allay neuralgic pains when all else fails.

READ THE TESTIMONY.

Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 3, 1870.

Messrs. Munfield & Highlee:
I write this to thank you for recommending your Magic Arnieo Liniment in the case of my niece, who was suffering
intensely from rheumatism and neuralgia. For seven days and nights she found no rest; we tried chloroform and other liniments without effect. As a last resort, I called to inquire about your great remedy, which I had heard of
from a friend. I applied it faithfully; the pain
was immediately subdued, and sound and refreshing sleep ensued. I consider the Magic Arnieo Liniment the best medicine I ever met with.

The September number of Wood's Household Magazine is on our table. Westways have a good word to say for this publication—it is such a wholesome book—so wide awake, so lively and entertaining, yet always so classic and refined. It is a regular life-giver, too, as comparison between its numbers will prove. We learn that the firm of S. S. Wood & Co. dissolved in March last, the "Co." (S. S. Wood, Esq., of Newburgh, retaining possession of the magazine, and recalling H. V. Osborne, Editor, as Editor. So, though the publication changed hands, it has not suffered from the management of a new publisher or new editor, but under the redoubtable efforts
of its energetic proprietor, has gained new life and new attractiveness. Price only one dollar a year. Address:

Undeveloped Vigor.

The feeble and debilitated usually fancy
they are in a more hopeful condition than they really are. The powers of nature are not easily exhausted. Even when strength and appetite fail, when the eyes are heavy
and listless, the complexion pallid, the nerves tremulous, the body attenuated, and
the mind depressed, there is generally a reserve of latent power behind such palpable evidences of weakness. Various modes of treatment are resorted to by physicians in the hope of developing and rendering available this store of sleeping vitality, but the surest, and indeed the only thoroughly safe
and reliable means of awakening the dormant energies of the system is a course of Hooper's Spermia Bitters. Electricity,
shower baths, the fish brush, sea bathing,
etc., may be well enough in their way, as a stimulus, but they do not reach the source of the evil. A physical disorder proceeds either from a derangement of the functions of the assimilating, excretive and vital organs, or from a sluggish constitution. In either case, and also in cases where both exist, the Bitters will invariably produce a harmonious and salutary change in the condition of the patient, and eventually a complete cure. None of the dangerous
allopathies, too often administered as tonics,
can be compared to these delicious and sustaining Bitters. The direct effect of the great vegetable spirit will be made manifest in an improved appetite, a more cheerful
state of mind, a gradual return of strength,
and, in case of blood, and a healthier complexion. Meanwhile, however, the constitution,
if inert and feeble, will have been re-
vigorated by the subtle elements of invigora-tion contained in the Bitters. Sept. 6-1m

To Kansas & Colorado!

During the summer season of 1873,
the Missouri Pacific Railroad will sell Excursion Tickets from St. Louis to Denver and return, at very low rates of fare,
and a rare opportunity is thereby offered, for lovers of nature to view the beauties of Colorado and enjoy the delightful scenery and health-inspiring climate of the Parks of the Rocky Mountains.

Kansas, with its broad and fertile plains, is directly on the route, and together with all the other Western States
and Territories, is reached by the Missouri Pacific Railroad and its connections.

The Texas connection of this road
is now completed, and passengers are offered a first class all-rail route
from St. Louis to Texas, either over the Missouri, Kansas & Texas R. R., via Austin, or over the Atlantic & Pacific R. R., via Vicksburg. For maps,
time tables, information as to rates,
routes, etc., we refer our readers to J. F.
Thompson, Southern Passenger Agent
Chattanooga, Tenn., or E. A. Ford,
General Passenger Agent, St. Louis.
Mo. Excursion tickets will be cheerfully and promptly issued.

THE STATE OF ALABAMA.

Calhoun County.

Probate Court, Aug. 29, 1873.

His day came Richard P. Cadeberry
for himself and as the next friend
of the children of J. R. Cadeberry, decd., viz: Eva, James P. and John R.
Cadeberry, and presented her petition
in writing, representing that Bentley
Stone decd. made and executed his last
will and testament, which will and testament was duly admitted to probate in the said Probate Court for Calhoun County, State of Alabama, in the year 1863.

Petitioner further states, from information and belief, that said will, together with the record thereof have been destroyed and entirely lost.

Petitioner further states, that the following named persons are the non-resident heirs and legatees of said decedent,
viz:—Nancy Colvin and Charlotte Simp-
son, who reside in the State of South Carolina, post office unknown to your petitioner, and Sarah Lay, wife of Lay, when last heard from resided in Green county, Alabama, and Coby
Thomas who did reside in Coosa county Alabama, whose present residences are unknown to petitioner.

Whereupon, it is ordered by the court
that the 15th day of October, 1873 be set for the hearing of said petition, and that notice thereof be given by publication in the Jacksonville Republican, a newspaper published in the Town of Jacksonville in said county, for three successive weeks prior to said day, as a notice to said non-resident legatees, as well as those whose residences are unknown, to be and appear at a regular term of said court, to be held at the court house of said county on said 15th day of Oct. 1873, and defend against said petition if they think proper.

A. WOODS, Judge of Sept. 6, 1873.—3t. Probate.

PERRY DAVIS'
PAIN-KILLER.

HAS been tested in every variety of climate, and by almost every nation
known to Americans. It is the constant companion and inestimable friend of the missionary and the traveler, on sea or land,
and no one should travel on our Lakes and Rivers without it.

Since the PAIN-KILLER was first introduced, and met with such extensive sale,
many Liniments, Reliefs, Pannecers, and other Remedies have been offered to the public, but none of them has ever attained the truly variable standing of the PAIN-KIL-LER.

WHY IS THIS SO?

It is because DAVIS' PAIN-KILLER is what it claims to be a Reliever of Pain.

Its Merits are Unsurpassed.

If you are suffering from INTERNAL
PAIN, Try it to Three Drops in a Cold
Water will almost instantly cure you.
There is nothing to equal it for

Cuts, Cramps, Spasms, Heart-

Dyspepsia, Sick Headache.

In sections of the country where

prevails, there is no remedy held in greater esteem. Persons traveling should keep it by them. A few drops, in water, will prevent sickness or head troubles from change of water.

From foreign countries the calls for PAIN

The Printer.
By C. H. ST. JOHN.
How little ye ken,
Ye women and men,
By courtesy styled "gentle readers,"
Of how much you owe
To the noble Type
And his army of folders and feeders!
The poet may sing
Of his Muses, his Loves, and his Graces;
But ah! he'd sing snail,
If he warbled at all,
Were it not for the chases and cases!
The writer of fiction,
Whose beautiful diction
Beguiles the long evenings of winter,
His mind would be left
Like a casket bereft
Of its key—if not picked by the printer!
The analyst, too,
That brings to your view
The wonderful story of ages,
Would, sure, be as dumb
As a clasp or a nut,
If nobody made up his pages!
Then whose doth read,
I beg him to heed
To the lesson these stanzas convey him—
Viz.—Now that you know
What a treasure you owe
To the Printer, be certain—to pay him!
The Honest Cabinet-Maker.
The cabinet-maker, Conrad Steinger, in the year 1786, received from a nobleman a book-case, in order to repair it. He discovered in it a hidden drawer, of which the owner knew nothing, and in which he found a casket containing precious stones of great value.
A friend of the cabinet-maker was present, and offered to get him 10,000 thalers for it, of which he wanted but 100 thalers for himself. "Friend!" said the honest cabinet-maker, "what right have I to do it? Probably the father of the nobleman to whom the book-case belonged had saved these ornaments for his family, without their knowing it. It is my duty to give the casket back to the right owner."
And really he brought the ornaments to the nobleman, who was very glad, and told him that they were worth more than 30,000 thalers. They found a note by his father, who had lately died, who had bought and hidden the jewels not long before. Having hunted all over in vain for the ornaments, a servant, who was present at his death, was now charged with the theft, and put into prison, out of which, however, he had fortunately afterward escaped. The assured innocence of the unjustly accused one, caused more joy to the nobleman than the recovered treasures. "But, honest man!" he added, "I will present you with as much as your friend offered you for the found jewelry."
He kept his word; the cabinet-maker received his 10,000 thalers, and remained laborious, beneficent and honest, which is seldom the case when one's condition is so rapidly changed.—Western Recorder.
The Angel in the Block.
It is related of Michael Angelo that, while walking with some friends through an obscure street in the city of Florence, he discovered a fine block of marble lying neglected in a yard, half hid in dirt and rubbish. Regardless of his holiday attire, he at once set to work upon it, clearing away the filth and striving to lift it from the slime and mire in which it lay. His companions asked him in astonishment what he was doing, and what he wanted with that worthless piece of rock. "Oh, there is an angel in this stone," was the answer, "and I must get it out." He had it removed to his studio, and with patient toil, with mallet and chisel, he let the angel out. What to others was a rude, unsightly stone, to his educated eye was a buried glory of art, and he discovered at a glance what might be made of it. A man would have put it into a stone wall; a cartman would have used it in filling in, or to grade the streets; but he transformed it into a creation of genius, and gave it a value for ages to come.
And so it is with Time. Some see it only as rubbish, to be disposed of. Others know no use but to fill up the gaps of toil and pleasure; but the trained eye of the devout student of Providence, seen in the sleeping or buried angel, and knows that if by the grace of God he handles it right, he can bring that angel out. He can carve it into the form of angelic service—he can shape into a life of holy devotion, till, like that which Theodore Parker admired in the missionary Judson, it is worth more than a "touple like the Parthenon."
Without religion, it is almost inevitable that one should be constrained to exclaim at last, like one of the great marshals of France, "my life has been a failure." But with it, time will be translated from the rough block into the glorious statue, or rather the living form. Consecrated aims will make it at once useful and blessed—a pathway of light, to angelic in a higher sphere.
John Randolph, of Roanoke, was making a speech against the United States' bank and among other things he remarked, that the banks were the cause of a perpetual motion that was more certain and reliable than anything else of the kind due to human invention. "For," says he, "banks make poverty, and poverty makes rags, and rags make paper, and paper makes money, and money makes banks, and so on for ever and ever, so long as bars exist."

A California Cloud-Burst.
These strange phenomena, the felicitously-named cloud bursts, that sometimes devastate the California valleys, are often terribly dramatic in their appearance and effects. In Yogo canon dwelt William McGilling and his four daughters. On the 12th of August a small cloud appeared in the sky, rapidly nearing the mountains and increasing in volume and density until the sky was obscured, and in the canon it seemed as though night had come suddenly. Fearing danger the family started to escape to the high grounds, the eldest persuaded the others to return and endeavor to save that dearly prized article of a California girl's heart, the piano—an instrument, if once lost, difficult to replace in the interior. This delay was fatal, and involved the untimely fate of the entire family. We read:
Scarcely had they reached the door of the cabin on their return when, with a noise resembling the discharge of a thousand pieces of artillery, the darkness suddenly parted in the centre and simultaneously an immense sheet of water descended upon the doomed house like a shot from a gun. One prolonged will, a few short shrieks, and the silence of death closed over the scene. When the water had subsided Yogo canon ceased to exist. Where the canon had been was now only a part of the adjoining hills, the debris caused by the cloud-burst having filled it up to a level with their tops.
The Truth Well Spoken.
One of our Northern exchanges contains the following, and every black man in Alabama should cut it out and read it every day:
The white man in his privileges, the black man in his degradation, can add to their blessings only by helping Democracy. It is the people's friend by name, profession and practice. If it ever fails, it is false to itself. The Tory never trusts the people. The people never gained by trusting the Tory. The Tory professes to be a friend to the negro, but the profession is only to re-enslave him, and to make him a meeker slave than he was before emancipation. He was emancipated to increase the Radical vote. His body was liberated, but his soul was fettered. If ever the negro is to be truly made free, respectable, useful and trustworthy, he must be made so by the Democracy of the nation. The sooner, therefore, he springs forward to help the cause of Democracy, the sooner he will be benefited and advanced. It can be done in no other way. In no other way have the common people of any race been blessed, and in no other way have they ever been prepared to save and protect themselves.
Why the Treasurer Favors the Re-issuance of State Money.
Since the re-issuance of more State Money is proposed, a little light might be given the public, showing up some, or the main reason for its issuance. After being put on the market, they will, even if kept at face value for a time, soon fall to at least 80 cts. where they are now, or under. The State being bound to receive it at its full value. Bingham will buy it up to square his account with the State at this discount and pocket the United States currency, as it comes in, leaving the State to pay its indebtedness with its worthless certificates. Scotchboro Era & Star.
A Canbrake planter suggests knocking the caterpillars off the cotton stalks. He says: "It will be found in experimenting, that by striking the stalk a sharp, sudden rap with a stick once or twice, nearly every worm on the stalk will fall to the ground, and if this is done when the ground is hot, say between 10 and 3 o'clock, that every worm falling to the earth will soon be dead. The process will have to be repeated every two or three days as the worms are constantly hatching out."
Adelbert Ames, son-in-law of Beant-Battler, has been nominated as the Radical candidate for Governor of Mississippi. Senator Alcorn has made a stirring speech in opposition to the Ames ticket, and announced himself an independent candidate for Governor. The negro, Ham Carter, who favors a negro government of the State, is also a candidate.
Columbus Delano, Secretary of the Interior, would like to occupy the seat in the United States Senate which will be vacant on the 4th of March, 1875, by the expiration of the term of service of Hon. Allen G. Thurman, of Ohio.
The old colored servant who attended General Grant's father is running for the Legislature in Kentucky. It is said he has the sympathy of the administration.
The Southern members of Congress cling to the back pay steel like a hungry dog to a bone.

HAGAN'S
Ayer's Cathartic Pills,
For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.
Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by every body as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and more certain remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cures them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does all. It is a purely vegetable, and no harm can arise from its use in any quantity. Its powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate the healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their regular action to health, and by correcting, wherever it exists, such derangements as are the first origin of disease. It is the best of all cathartics, and is given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:
For Biliousness, Indigestion, Flatulency, Languor, a sense of Apeppetite, the bowels becoming torpid, and the system generally, and restores the blood, by its action on the stomach, liver, and bowels, and the various organs of the system. It is a most reliable and certain remedy for all the above complaints, and is given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:

JACKSONVILLE, ALABAMA.

SATURDAY, SEPT. 20th, 1873.

The largest sale of short horned cattle that ever has been made, took place in Union, New York, on the 10th inst.—One cow brought forty thousand six hundred dollars, another thirty-five thousand, and so on down. The average price paid for ten of the Duchess stock was twenty-one thousand seven hundred dollars each, or two hundred and seventy thousand dollars for the ten.

The following numbers drew prizes worth recording, at the Rome Fair.—All other prize numbers drew no larger amount than $1, and we have not the room to record them. Number 562 drew the rosewood piano; 168 drew the parlor organ; 103 drew the silver tea set; 211 drew one hundred dollars in gold; 578 & 467 each drew fifty dollars; 320, 257, 802, 541 & 474 each drew twenty-five dollars; 351, 935, 57, 847, 630, 425, 214, 49, 58, 252, each drew ten dollars; 892, 660, 126, 254, 439, 273, 422, 625, 421, 788, 502, 799, 469, 432, 807, 46, 86, 304, 900, & 669 each drew five dollars.

The enemies of Ben Butler in the Massachusetts State Republican Convention thought they had him when they introduced a resolution denouncing the back salary steal which he in his speeches had defended; but Benjamin was equal to the emergency, and completely turned the tables on them when he arose and said the back salary steal bill was passed by a Republican Congress, and was signed by a Republican President, and that he was ashamed of his advocacy of no measure which the Republican party (as in this case) was responsible for. Thereupon the Republicans in that Massachusetts Republican Convention wished they had said nothing about the salary steal.

The campaign has opened up lively in Ohio, and already the voice of "Many Voters" is heard in the land, although there are few offices to fill. If such is the case in Ohio, under the circumstances, how will it be in Alabama next year with every office in the State from that of Chief Justice to that of Constable to be filled? Won't those ubiquitous old chaps, "Vox Populi" and "Many Voters," who always turn up just before elections and subside directly they are over, have them a good time? Won't they suggest candidates and sing their praises through the newspapers? Won't they cut capers for awhile? Ah, a wonderful pair are V. P. and M. V.!

We learn from a slip sent us from the Roanoke, (Salem Va.) Times that the exercises of Roanoke College opened on the 3rd of September, under the most encouraging auspices indeed. About fifteen States and Territories were represented by the students in attendance on the first day of the session, with the prospect of a much larger representation. It will be remembered that Mr. Julius Dreher, then a student at this College, was at Jacksonville some three years ago representing its advantages. He was a young gentleman of the utmost frankness and most pleasing address; and it gratifies us to see from the last catalogue sent us that he now holds a professorship in the Institution—deservedly no doubt.

The incendiary General, Sherman, has written a letter in which he attempts to refute the truthful statement of Federal Colonel Stone, and fix the odium of the burning of Columbia on the Southern troops. We may now expect another letter from him to the effect that the broad road of devastation that marked his passage through Georgia and South Carolina, and the complete destruction of all species of property in the Valley of Virginia, was the work of the Southern troops. To show that the Southern people just went about generally burning up their own homes, mills, barns, fences, wharves, towns and cities.—Good, Logical Sherman.

Here is the idea: If these men entrusted with the organization of Granges are so anxious for the spread of the "order," why do they not appoint more Deputies? Here everybody is waiting to see and know about this matter, and we have only three or four men bogging over the State forming Granges, with their appointments months ahead, when, if they were solicitous for the rapid spread of the order, there would be at least one Deputy to each County in the State.—Is it because three or four men wish to pocket all the Deputies' fees (and we presume there are such fees,) for organizing Granges, that they make the farmers await their elegant convenience?—Trot out more Deputies Mr. Head Man, and let the Grange movement proceed. People up this way are curious to know more about it. It seems the people of the South have been made to wait years until it got good foothold in the Northwest, lest Southern countenance of it should make it odious to the people of that section; and even now it proceeds cautiously down this way. But as before remarked the people of this country can afford to wait. We have been used to "back seats" since the war.

Jacksonville needs more residences.—Several people who would like to come and live in Jacksonville to give their children educational advantages, are deterred from so doing for want of house room. Other families now boarding in towns would like to come to Jacksonville, but can find no room to keep. An investment in a house would pay many individuals in the Building Association.

According to Gen. Law it takes nine men and four women to form a Grange. The entrance fee for charter members is three dollars for males and fifty cents for females. Those who join afterwards must be balloted for and take the degrees regularly, as in other secret societies.—The entrance fee for such members is five dollars for males and two dollars for females.

Sambo is a great disturbing element, and there is no lack of fools to put him forward on every occasion. Whenever anything new gets up, he eyes it curiously for awhile, and, if he sees nothing very "dimicral" about it, mounts his "rights" and goes for it. He is a chronic annoyance to trustees and directors of free public schools in some States, the terror of railroad conductors, and the nightmare of hotel keepers and managers of theatres and charity institutions. Lately he charged successfully the Good Templars, and now he has got the Patrons of Husbandry in Missouri and Arkansas in a stew, and his black cohorts press Gulfward. He claims to be a humble tiller of the soil, and nothing will content him until he sees Dinah shine as Flora and Ham Fat officiate as Husbandman. There is no doubt but what the National Grange would grant a dispensation to a colored lodge, should a sufficient number apply, but it is left discretionary with the State Granges, we believe, whether or not they would admit a colored Master of a Grange.

How is this for a Cucumber!

The communication below, as will be seen from its date, has lain over for some time—unavoidably of course. It was not discarded—only pickled for a couple of weeks; and now we present it for the consideration of the Louisiana editor who lately called our attention to his big cucumber.

The fact is Alabama in general and old Calhoun in particular can lay it on to Louisiana in anything except gun boats and State officials. We acknowledge our inferiority in these items. McKinstry can never hope to rise to the level of the negro Lieutenant Governor of Louisiana, nor can Gov. Lewis approximate the general excellence of the notorious Wm. Pitt Kellogg, albeit he may get him a gun boat about next election time. But our farmers are harder and more independent, our girls are healthier, rosier, ruddier and prettier, our minerals are more abundant, diversified and valuable and our soil adapted to a greater variety of crops than in Louisiana, and—our cucumbers bigger.

DAVISVILLE, ALA.

Editors Republican: Noted in your issue of Aug. 23rd an article headed "Big Cucumber," in which the superiority of Louisiana soil to any in the United States was asserted, because a cucumber four feet long had been raised there. Well, Messrs editors, you please say to that editor that he had better have Mr. "Dan" bring another, if he wishes to claim said superiority, as old Calhoun can beat that cucumber.—Mr. G. W. Milam of this place raised one which measured four feet, eleven and five eighth inches. This cucumber was measured in the presence of Messrs. J. F. Davis and J. C. McDaniel, Esq. of this place and A. M. McDaniel, Esq. of the Alabama county. The truth of the above statement can be established beyond a doubt.

Yours &c.

H. T. PRASONS.

HAIL CAESAR.

Salvete! Salvete! Vire le Roi Vire le Roi Caus Caesar Antonius now reigns in Louisiana. The Constitution of Louisiana installs him on the throne by virtue of the absence of William Pitt Kellogg. A little cocoanut-headed pure African, who some twelve years ago, regarded himself fortunate to stand at the head of a man-of-war, and fulfill the functions of a waiter and valet, now occupies the chair once filled by the Baron Cerodet, by Don O'Leary, by V. C. C. Claiborne, by Robertson, Romo, Mouton, Johnson, and other distinguished representatives of the Anglo-Saxon or Caucasian race. Some sentimentalists may think this a great descent for Louisiana, but it is not so regarded by our brethren of the North, who rather curl in this marvellous change of condition and in this sudden promotion of the once oppressed negro. Nor does it give us, who are the subjects of this Caesar, any special grief or self-abasement. Our monarch—we call him Antoine, out of courtesy to the ancient population, instead of the classical Antonius or the English Anthony—is a very inoffensive and well-behaved individual, and bears himself with grace and polish of an accomplished gentleman's ex-waiter. His habits are in the latest French style, and his appearance always neat and genteel, and his bearing by no means presumptuous or self-important. Without the dash and art of Pinchbeck he is also free from the flashiness and rowdy air of that sporting character. Without the dignity and port, he is also free from the austere and chilling grandeur of the lamented Dunn.

Altogether, he Antoine is rather an engaging individual, and improvement on his ancestors. He is, too, one of us, knows our ways, and has some sympathies for even his unfortunate white subjects. Altogether, his reign promises to be a placid and peaceful one. Should he realize this expectation, we see no reason why he should not elongate his name, and style himself the worthy successor to that illustrious Roman, who gave such renown to the name of the great Antoine. We can, at least bear him with resignation, not to say relief and gratification, as long as Kellogg may be absent.

The Supreme Court of Georgia, having denied the application of Milton Malone for a new trial, the only hope left him is in Executive clemency. What a Northern Soldier Thinks of Mr. Davis' Speech.

Mr. P. F. Duffy, a gentleman of Northern birth, who fought in the Federal army against the South, now an esteemed citizen of North Carolina, and the editor of the Greensboro Patriot, has made a speech in the last number of his paper.

"He said that if Southern people had anticipated what was in store for them they would not be enjoying their independence, and it is true."

The leaders of the war party in the North lied to the people of the North and South; and thus secured the support of the Northern people, and the final surrender of the Southern armies. They went into the war with the cry of Union on their lips, and it was this cry that filled their armies which I warned over the South. When charged by the Democracy with an abolition war, to deliver the States Sovereignty, to annihilate the rights of citizens and States, they denied it strenuously and filled their dunces with editors and speakers who had the courage to charge them with it. An yet we have seen all this brought to light, and now we see that the war was not of and not only the Southern people, but also the Northern people "cheated," as Mr. Davis expresses it. These may be unpleasant truths for Mr. Davis, or any one else to utter, but they are true, and we know, as all the pens in the Radical domain cannot write them."

A Big Marriage Proposal.

[From the Washington Republic.]

JACKSON, MADISON COUNTY, TENN., August 7, 1873.—Ladies of the Treasury Department of the Southern States, Dear Ladies:—The writer was in Washington on Monday last and among the many scenes which fill within his view of curiosity, art and beauty, the finest of them all was the general appearance of those fair ones who dwell within the walls of the great cash house of the broad

And as we the Persian Shah charmed with the art and splendor of English institutions, so was the aforesaid writer allured with the beauty of these fair ones. I, perhaps, would not have known some of you were here, but to form the acquaintance of any of you, as Hamlet says that was the question then; but fortune favors the brave and never abandons the just and in that hour she stood by me and kindly whispered into my ear, and I said:

And in this letter I would make manifest the feelings of my heart in language adequate to this express these sorrows. I want those who want to be married ladies to write me at once and let me know their terms.

You may think that character has compelled me to wander far from home to find affection, but the facts in the case are that I am a carpet-bagger, and have a pretty fair struggle to live among these heathens with nothing but a few dollars to my aid, and I have no other friends here but those who help the sad soul of suffering humanity in the dreary hours of impending danger will write me a letter and bid me live in hope. My age is 22, and 6 feet tall, and fine to look upon, and I have for this time I withhold, and those writing will for the time address "C. A. L." Jackson, Madison County, Tenn.

The Governor of Illinois recently pardoned a penitentiary convict because they said he was dying of consumption. That pardon did not save him, for that young man would have done by a dozen bottles of cod liver oil. In twenty-four hours his lungs were as sound as if they had been made of brass.

A Sioux City lady went to a gallery to have her picture taken. After waiting for some time, the artist put the plate in the camera, and told her to look at a certain place on the wall. She wasn't certain of seeing it well from where she sat, and so got up and walked over to it, but failed to discover anything curious about it.

An aged couple on Wooster street are very fond of checkers, and play quite frequently. When he beats at the game, she says, "I've got it, and she will not play again. If he loses him to have her act so, but he controls his irritation, and talks to her about it. He tells her it is wrong for people at her age in life to be disturbed by such trifles, and she says she will play with him as long as she can, and she is as good as his word.

Then he throws the checkers in one direction and kicks the board in another, and says he will never play with anybody but her, so all finally, and talks moodily to bed, and leaves her to pick up the things.—Danbury News.

Map the Farm.

The Nashville Rural Sun, says each farmer ought to have a plan of his farm with each field correctly laid down and named or numbered. Nothing would so much conduce to the adoption of a system of agriculture as to be sure to see him to thinking and planning how best to work to save work. And once the farmer adopts a system of farming he starts on the road to success. It matters not that the system is not the best that has ever been devised, so long as it is a system it is infinitely to be preferred to the hap-hazard practice of many farmers.

A revival has been in progress for two weeks at Biba, Coffee county, and large numbers have joined the Methodist Church.

The tax collector of Elmore having been reported as a defaulter for over $4,000, an investigation was had, in which he came out clean, being a hard, instead of a behind, with his cash.

J. J. Northcutt, of Hale county, has on his place a stack of cotton (Texas seed) which has 300 bolls and a single one, and another (Dixon seed) with 610 bolls and squares.

The Cherokee Advertiser is informed that on the 20th ult., during a storm, lightning struck two pine trees on the farm of Dr. A. M. A revival of religion has been going on for some weeks near Williams Station, in Barbour county. Some seventy or eighty persons have already joined.

Rev. E. Tucker, from Indiana, who has been controlling the negroes of Hindu county, Miss., and pocketing the offices, meeting with the cold shoulder from his colored brethren, has packed his carpet-bag and gone home.

The Brandon Republican speaks of the gubernatorial candidates in Mississippi thus: "Ames is a bond-payer, a non-resident, and one of the most malignant scoundrels on the earth. Alcorn is a salary-grabber, a devotee of his race, and responsible for the elevation of Ames. Curtis is a carpet-bag negro, a mean, malignant and venomous scoundrel."—What a trio!

Gen. Joe Johnston declined to answer questions on fearism, not being a citizen of the United States as he informed the interviewer, who met with a similar rejection from Gen. Beauregard. Rev. John B. Henz, of Martin's Ferry, Ohio, bought a railroad ticket at East St. Louis, Monday night, sat down to wait for the train and died.

The Birmingham News thinks a certain paper with a patent outside would be improved by being patented all the way through.

It is told of Bob Duke, the Democratic member of Congress from the Lynchburg (Va.) district, that when the retroactive salary bill had been passed and become a law, Bob (who had been a Confederate officer) walked around the sergeant-at-arms, and drew his extra pay, and turning to a crowd of Congressmen near by, remarked, as he pocketed the sum, "Gentlemen, this just pays me for three of my niggers!" In Memoriam.

A happy home is made desolate—the Angel of Death hovered around it for a few days, then laid hold upon one of its inmates and carried his spirit away—away to another home which Jesus has prepared for those who love him. W. R. HUBBARD, third son of W. R. and M. A. Hubbard, died near Jacksonville on Tuesday evening at 2 o'clock, August 26th, 1873, aged fourteen years two months and seven days. He was violently attacked with bilious fever, and on the evening of the fifth day of his illness breathed his last. Being delicious throughout his sickness, he left no dying testimony; but his life testimony for Jesus was such as to leave no doubt on the minds of his friends that "their loss was his eternal gain."

Two years ago he gave his young heart to the Saviour, and joined the Presbyterian Church, in the communion and fellowship of which he lived only two short years—long enough to endure himself by his quiet and orderly work, not only to his membership, but to all who loved Jesus.

With a gentle, kind-hearted, good body, with a sprightly mind, well cultivated, a fondness for books and especially for the Bible. Many noble traits were exhibited in his short-lived existence. If one was more prominent than the rest, it was his cheerful obedience to his parents. But he is gone, leaving fond parents, devoted brothers and sisters, and many friends to mourn his early departure, but "not as in case who have no hope," for he has left this precious memento, that he has exchanged communion with the church on earth, for the communion of "the General Assembly and Church of the first born who are written in Heaven."

"Dearest Willie thou hast left us. Here thy loss we deeply feel; But 'tis God that hath bereft us; He can all our sorrows heal."

THE MOBILE LIFE INSURANCE CO.

This first class Southern Company is a grand success. It has issued over One thousand policies during the past year. It was organized by the leading business men in the State with the view of stopping the flow of money to Northern Insurance Companies. It has succeeded wonderfully. Over One Hundred Thousand Dollars have been kept in this State that would have otherwise been sent out.

ITS CAPITAL.....$300,000.

Is securely invested, and its accumulations are all kept in our midst, thereby enhancing the value of our property and developing our resources. Every Alabamian should insure in this safe, home company.

I. Because every dollar is kept in our State instead of being sent out.

II. It is economically and prudently managed.

III. Its managers are gentlemen whom we all know—and whom we can trust; they are well and favorably known throughout the South.

The Gadsden, board Col. Kyle, President, has directors in Gadsden and Jacksonville.

M. M. KETTERHILL & CO.
100 Park Row, New York, 10 State St., Boston, and 701 Chestnut St., Philadelphia.
Are Agents for the "Wood's Household Magazine."

A Liberal Proposition.

The next being a year of general elections, we desire to increase the circulation of our paper, and to assist in the accomplishment of this object, we now make the following proposition:

To all new subscribers, who will pay the advance price $2, we will furnish the Republican until the close of the year 1874; and we will do the same for all our present subscribers who pay up arrears and one year in advance. They will thus obtain from this time the paper for more than fifteen months, for the advance price of one year. We will also, if desired, furnish "Wood's Household Magazine," an able and interesting monthly, of unexceptionable moral tone, for one year, by the payment of 50 cents extra.

This proposition will be kept open while there is any advantage in it.

The protracted meeting is still in progress at this writing with increasing interest.

Next week the lawyers will go from this place to Etowah Court at Gadsden.

Our thanks are due our old friend James Gidley, for a basket of the very finest potatoes we have seen this year.

We call attention to a new and cheap Sewing Machine offered by Jerome B. Hudson & Co., New York.

THE FIRST SALE.—The first bale of Cotton was brought to town by Mr. J. L. Whisenand, and sold to Rowan, Dean & Co., at 17½ cents.

Interesting to Merchants.

The wholesale Boot & Shoe house of M. F. GOVANY & Co., Rome, Ga. have received their Fall Stock, which is unusually large. They propose to sell to Merchants at New York prices. This is no boast. They are reliable, and from what we know of them, we believe they will do it every time.

They will have an agent with samples here in a few days.

We have received a letter from Mr. Savory, of Talladega, stating that ample separate accommodation will be made for whites on the Atlanta excursion train—from four to five cars—and that every attention will be paid to the comfort of guests. Over a hundred ladies and gentlemen are expected to go from Talladega. It will leave on the 25th inst.—$2 50 to Atlanta and return.

Attention is invited to the advertisement of Ed. L. Woodward in another column. He expects soon to have from New York a large line of the Goods mentioned in his advertisement, which he proposes to sell for Cash and consequently Cheap. We are glad to see him in the Dry Goods and Grocery business again, and hope to see the old stand soon stocked to its fullest capacity and running over with customers as in the days of old.

That Old Snake Again.

[From the Vaneburg-Kentuckian.]

On last Monday night, Mr. Laban Woodworth, a citizen of this county, complained of a violent pain in the stomach, and, in order to alleviate the pain, he took two strong doses of spirits of camphor, which failed, however, to produce the desired effect, his stomach continuing to pain him until about midnight, when he commenced vomiting, and upon examining what had been vomited, Mrs. Woodworth found a snake about 7½ inches long, being about one-fourth of an inch in diameter, with whitish belly and brown back, flat head, eyes intact, with forked tongue protruding; in fact, a genuine snake. The snake was dead, the strong camphor making it too hot for his snakeship. The snake is now in the office of Dr. Dick McGuffin, of Quincy, Kentucky, where the curious can see for themselves. Mr. Woodworth's health has been very poor for several years past, his stomach being his main ailment. Mr. Woodworth is about seventy years old, and is the father of Captain Ben Woodworth of the steamer Potomac, and John W. Woodworth, County Assessor.

MEMPHIS, Sept. 15.

LOUISIANA.
The People of Vermilion Parish Hanging Alleged Cattle Thieves Wherever Caught.

NEW IBERIA, La., Sept. 18.

The parish of Vermilion has, for some time, been infested with cattle thieves. The people have been under redress by process of law, and last month organized a vigilance committee as the last resort. A large number of thieves and their confederates were given notice to leave within a specified time, but instead of doing so armed themselves and threatened to destroy the town of Abbeville. The vigilantes pressed them, and they scattered. It is reported that three of the band were hung on Friday, the 5th inst. Wednesday night, the 10th inst., one of those who were endeavoring to escape was arrested under civil process at Brashear, and while en route here was taken from the steamer Minnie Avery at Jeanerette by a squad of armed men and hung in front of Dr. Dugger's residence, three miles above that town. All sorts of vague rumors are afloat here concerning the number executed, but no positive information can be obtained.

Slave Ship Captured.

LONDON, Sept. 13.

A dispatch has been received at the Admiralty office from the commander of the British steam sloop Daphne, announcing the capture in the Indian Ocean, near the Zeychelle Islands, of a slave ship upon which there had been horrible suffering. Small-pox had raged on the ship and out of 300 slaves taken on board, 250 died. The remaining 50 were terribly emaciated from disease and want.

YELLOW FEVER.

Extreme Malignity of the Plague at Shreveport—the Cases Increasing.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 14.

The Picayune special from Shreveport says: "The disease is a genuine yellow fever of a very malignant type. It is almost impossible to arrive at any reliable information as to whether there is any abatement of the fever. The sudden change in the weather has proved fatal to the sick. The Howard Association is well organized, and is doing noble service; but there is great need of assistance in nurses as well as funds. The city being almost depopulated, it is impossible to obtain a sufficient number of nurses to attend the sick. Drs. Henry Smith, John J. Reiley and J. F. Terrey, Dr. Hurd is due tomorrow morning."

"The Times of this morning says: 'The deaths yesterday far exceeded those of any day since the commencement of the epidemic. The increased number of deaths was no doubt owing somewhat to the sudden change in the weather, as well as the increased number of sick. The sudden change from hot and sultry Friday evening to cold chilly no-doubt hastened the deaths of some, as well as developed the fever in others. The rain and cold wind from the North had the effect to purify the atmosphere, and in the opinion of our physicians will be conducive to the health of those who are now well, and will assist many to recover who stood the ordeal of the sudden change. It is estimated that 500 persons are down with the fever. The deaths so far amount to 146.'"

A dispatch from Shreveport to the Howard Association reports the arrival of nurses and physicians from New Orleans, and says the physicians pronounce the disease genuine fever in an epidemic form. No abatement to-day.

Eleven Deaths in Memphis Yesterday—The People Fleeing

MEMPHIS, Sept. 14.

There was considerable excitement here to-day consequence of the address published this morning by the Board of Health in regard to the prevalence of the yellow fever, and a great many left the city. Several new cases are reported in the Southern part of the city this afternoon. The total number of interments reported to the Board to-day were fourteen, eleven of whom died of yellow fever. The weather last night and to-night was immensely cool, and it is hoped an early frost will soon stop the progress of the disease.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.

President Orton of the Western Union Telegraph Co. instructs Superintendents of Telegraph Offices throughout the country to send free all messages relating to the relief of citizens of Shreveport, and to transmit money without charge. By this means money relief can be instantly forwarded when by mail it would require ten days. Any one desiring to contribute to the sufferers can have it forwarded at once by paying it into any office of the W. U. Telegraph.

Superintendent of the Western Union Telegraph at New Orleans telegraphed to the Company here under date of to-day, as follows:

"No telegraph transfers proper can be made with Shreveport, as the telegraph is down, and the telegrapher has been killed. The telegrapher went there from here, and no money for this purpose has been transferred."

ferred money, however, through a banking house without cost, and can transfer whatever may offer unless banking house at Shreveport should be closed by sickness.

The last messenger at Shreveport is down sick this morning. No report of the affliction can possibly exaggerate the actual condition of the town.

SHREVEPORT, Sept. 15.

The disease is genuine yellow fever. The sudden change in the weather is unfavorable. There is great need for nurses and money. Five hundred are down.

COMMODORE VANDERBILT has been interviewed on the effect of the Grange movement. His language was not exclusively agricultural.

WONDERFUL.

Magic Arniea Liniment will not only cure in the shortest space of time all ordinary cases of sprains, bruises, and aches, but even the dread paralysis will yield to its powerful, penetrating influence.

READ THE TESTIMONY.

HORN LAKE, Miss., May 28 1870. This is to certify that I was afflicted with general paralysis from January, 1869, my disease commencing with the most intense drowsiness. It seemed, indeed, that I should sleep myself away; I grew rapidly worse, and my case was pronounced hopeless by the best of four separate physicians and incurable. About Christmas last I commenced the use of Magic Arniea Liniment, by advice of my aunt, Mrs. A. W. M. Rosebrough, who thought I should at least try to do something. From that time I commenced rapidly improving, and after having used five bottles, feel myself entirely well.

A. C. LANE.

As the aunt of Mrs. Lane, I am perfectly familiar with all the facts of the above case, and consider the case a remarkable one.

Mrs. A. W. M. ROSEBROUGH.

The September number of Wood's Household Magazine is on our table. We always have a good word to say for this publication—it is such a whole-souled book—so wide awake, so lively and entertaining, yet always so chaste and refined. It is a regular little go-ahead-thing, as a comparison between its numbers will prove. We learn that the firm of S. W. Wood & Co. dissolved in March last, the "Co." (S. E. Slater, Mayor of Newburgh, retaining possession of the magazine, and retaining L. V. Osborne (Tenneco) as Editor. So, though the publication changed hands, it has not suffered from the management of a new publisher or new editor, but under the reliable efforts of its energetic proprietor, has gained new force and new attractiveness. Price only one dollar a year. Address: Wood's Household Magazine, Newburgh, N. Y.

Undeveloped Vigor.

The feeble and debilitated usually fancy they are in a more hopeless condition than they really are. The resources of nature are not easily exhausted. Even when strength and appetite fail, when the eyes are heavy and listless, the complexion pallid, the nerves tremulous, the body attenuated, and the mind depressed, there is generally a reserve of latent power behind such palpitating evidences of weakness. Various modes of treatment are resorted to by physicians in the hope of developing and rendering available this store of sleeping vitality, but the surest, and indeed the only thoroughly safe and reliable means of awakening the dormant energies of the system is a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Electricity, shower baths, the flesh brush, sea bathing, &c., may be well enough in their way, as auxiliaries, but they do not reach the source of the evil. All physical debility proceeds either from a derangement of the functions of the assimilating, rectifying and vital organs, or from a sluggish constitution. In either case, and also in cases where both causes exist, the Bitters will invariably produce an immediate and salutary change in the condition of the patient, and eventually a complete cure. None of the dangerous alkalis, too often administered as tonics, can be otherwise than deleterious under such circumstances, and to give mercury is positively criminal. The direct effect of the Bitters is to give to the system a more cheerful frame, an improved appetite, a more cheerful frame, an increased return of strength, and of mind, and a healthier complexion. Meanwhile, however, the constitution, if inert and feeble, will have been invigorated by the subtle elements of invigoration contained in the Bitters. Sept. 6-1m.

To Kansas & Colorado!

During the summer season of 1873, the Missouri Pacific Railroad will sell Excursion Tickets from St. Louis to Denver and return, at very low rates of fare, and a rare opportunity is thereby offered, for lovers of nature to view the beautiful scenery of Colorado and enjoy the delightful climate of the Rocky Mountains. Kansas is directly on the route, and together with all the other Western States and Territories, is reached by the Missouri Pacific Railroad and its connections.

The Texas connection of this road is now completed, and passengers are offered a first class all-rail route from St. Louis to Texas, either via the Missouri, Kansas & Texas R. R., via Sedalia, or over the Atlantic & Pacific R. R., via Fort Worth. For maps, time tables, and information as to rates of fares, &c., we refer our readers to J. F. Thompson, Southern Passenger Agent, Chattanooga, Tenn., or E. A. Ford, General Passenger Agent, St. Louis, Mo. Questions will be cheerfully and promptly answered.

A STARTLING STORY.

One Chapter in the Secret History

of Kentucky During the War—

Bramlette's Suppressed

Proclamation.

Almost a Revolution.

[Bowling Green (Ky.) Post-Graphic, 17th.]

If the secret history of courts and

campus could be compelled, what a valuable addition we would have to the world's annals. Many characters whom we now consider but men would doubtless appear great, and many a man who

in ancient story is held up as an example would be stripped of the mask which hides his deformity. Upon the smallest things sometimes hang the destinies of nations. At times the caprice of women has thrown them into confusion. The chance of a country has sent many to thousands. Who would not delight to

A history of the plots and counter-plots

are about to relate, if true, shows the truth of the quotation:

though we know not how."

For its truth, we do not doubt, but it was told us by a gallant ex-Federal officer several years ago, who by his manner in relating it, seemed to be familiar with his subject, and spoke as one who had seen it. He said that every one was, or should be familiar. His story was in substance about this: During the year 1861 Thomas E. Bramlette

was Governor of Kentucky, and Stephen

G. Burdette was the commander of a department of which Kentucky composed a portion, or perhaps all. The ad-

Dies Ira! Dies Ira!

The people of the United States, at this time, can chant the song with the above name, with the consciousness that it has as deep a significance as when it was wailed by the old Romans. This is literally a day of wrath. Disease, disaster, devastation, and financial destruction are upon us. We look and shudder, at the horrors of Slavesport, Paducah and Memphis, where gaunt disease is laying low its many victims; the frightful loss of life by the sinking of the vessel Titans in one of the Northern lakes and the loss of other vessels on the coast; the second terrible Chicago fire, rendering homeless hundreds of families and the burning thousands of dollars of property; the sickening accounts of death by railroad accidents; the destruction of millions of dollars worth of cotton by the greed of the army worm and caterpillar; and last but not least, the great financial crash which is now shaking Wall street to its foundations! In this crash the government attempts to bolster up its favorites and comes in for a share of the general loss. Defaulters, speculators in funds held in trust, have been suddenly brought to a halt and facing outraged depositors, they quail, suspect and with a white attitude their soundness to this or that cause, what ever may seem most plausible, and then go to Europe or disappear. Scores of Banking houses have closed their offices in New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and other cities of the United States. In the general disaster National Banks, which have been told were established upon a basis that could not be shaken, have been wrecked. A perfect deluge of shipwrecks has been thrown upon the country by the Government to save the bankers who wanted them instead of government bonds. In this very action of the government lies the secret of the crash. Grant, the head and front of the corrupt rascals of Washington and New York, has already shown his capacity for manipulating Wall Street to his own purposes. "Black Friday" has not been forgotten. The little game played by Ulysses and Jay Gould a few years ago, when "called," showed that four axes were in the "hands" of these gamblers. It may serve the purposes of these tricksters to assert that the movements of the farmers in the West, have induced the capitalists of Europe to fight shy of American securities, it may ease their consciences in a measure, to tell of the unfortunate condition of the planting interests of the South and the almost failure of the cotton crop; but neither these nor any other excuse can be formed except their unholty lust for gain, and the worthlessness of the currency upon which their fancied wealth was hung, coupled with a corruption-rotting in its infancy, shamelessness in its high handedness and glaring openness, enormous in its amounts and embracing within its grasp, the highest official of the nation and even Congress. In such cloth and ashes, with bowed heads and indignant hearts we feel the shame, but cannot exert it. Truly dies ira! Dies ira!

The Polaris Survivors.

It will be remembered that a few months ago, the startling intelligence was received of the rescue of a portion of the crew of the ship Polaris, from an ice floe floating in the Atlantic off the coast of New England. These rescued men (there was also one woman and two or three children) gave a thrilling story of their sufferings, and the Government which had fitted out the original Polaris expedition with Captain Hall as its leader, determined to send a vessel in search of those who had been left upon the ship from which the rescued party had been separated by a storm and the breaking up of the ice. While the steamer Tigress, sent to look after the survivors of the Polaris was scouring the frozen regions in the Northern part of Greenland, and just as it had been discovered that Captain Hall and party had abandoned the Polaris in a leaky condition, and had started southward in two frail boats, the Tigress came by the ocean telegraph that they have been rescued by a Scottish Whaling vessel, and are safely landed at Dundee Scotland.

The painful rumor that Dr. Hall had been poisoned or murdered, has been set at rest by the evidence of Dr. Russell, Chief of the scientific corps of the expedition, who states that Dr. H. died a natural death from apoplexy. The evidence however of his identification on board the ill-fated vessel is abundant, but it has no immediate connection with the death of Captain Hall. If he had lived, the great object of the expedition might have reached a nearer consummation. As it is, much has been accomplished and many scientific and geographical facts brought to light.

Commander Greer is still wandering in Arctic waters searching for the men now safely at Dundee Scotland or on a steamer bound from that place to New York; but of which fact he knows nothing. Unless the useless pursuit is abandoned in a few days, the Steamer Tigress may be frozen in, and Commander Greer and his party may have to undergo the rigors of an Arctic winter.

Reminiscences of Distinguished Men.

[Col. Tom. Green, in the Magazine, (Ky.) Eagle.]

There is a paragraph going the rounds of the press, stating that J. B. Clay, the grandson of Henry Clay, has presented to the museum of Ashland, Ky., the coat which the Statesman wore as one of the Commissioners to make the treaty of Ghent in 1814. This garment is said to be excellently wrought, elaborately trimmed with silk and braid.

When Gen. Jackson, in order to get rid of the intrigues of Buchanan, sent the Pennsylvania politician into genteel exile by giving him the mission to St. Petersburg, that functionary inquired of Clay, one night at a whist party in Washington, what style of dress he should wear at the court of the Czar.

The Kentucky Senator informed the minister that as they were about of a size—Buchanan had not then grown so stout as he appeared later in life—the coat he wore as one of the Commissioners at Ghent was at his service. "But it has been worn, Mr. Clay," was the response to the offer. "Oh that is nothing you can turn it, Buchanan, you're used to it." Ever after the writing of the famous letter of Buchanan charging "bribery and corruption" between Clay and John Quincy Adams, when the latter was elected to the House of Representatives, Clay never lost an opportunity of retaliating upon the author of this charge both in and out of the Senate.

In the course of a speech in this body, on one occasion, Buchanan stated that when a young man he joined a volunteer militia company that marched from Lancaster to the relief of Baltimore, when the Monticombian city was threatened by the British during the war of 1812.

Upon reaching Hagerstown, however, the troops learning that the invaders had been repulsed at North Point, returned home without further participation in the war.

At this point Clay arose and addressed the chair, expressed a desire to ask the speaker a question. "Certainly," was the courteous response. "I would like to inquire of the Senator from Pennsylvania," remarked the great commoner, with that inimitable

Alabama's Financial Agents Suspended.

The dispatches of Wednesday brought the intelligence that Henry Clews & Co., Bankers of New York, and Financial Agents for Alabama, had suspended payment. A dispatch was also received at Montgomery urging the proper authorities to hasten to New York, at once, for the purpose of protecting the interests of Alabama. It will be remembered that Danen, Sherman & Co., the former Financial Agents of the State had been superseded by Clews & Co. The dispatch does not inform us what interests are in danger. It may be that Clews has hypothecated bonds of the State, held by him for sale, at ruinous low rates, to enable him to raise funds. If Alabama has been injured by Clews, the Radical administration of Lewis & Co., are to blame for it. The character of this Banking house for trickery was established while Bullock was running the Governorship of Georgia, and the change of the Financial Agency from the old well established firm of Danen, Sherman & Co., to Clews & Co., it was predicted at the time it was made, would ultimately involve the State in loss.

Alabama can ill afford to lose a dollar at this time. The treasury empty, the crops almost a failure and thousands of dollars of State warrants unpaid, afford a picture with too gloomy an appearance to have added the injury to her credit induced by the scandalousness of her Financial Agents.

We await developments before commenting further. In the meantime we hope that immediate steps will be taken to prevent any further injury to the State, as the latest dispatches indicate that Clews & Co., have not only suspen-

"Wild Bill."

"Wild Bill," a hero of the Western Wilds, whom Gen. Custer has complimented in his series of articles in the Galaxy, entitled "My life on the Plains," for his gallantry as a scout, in the expedition against the Indians, has done the Sack and Boskin and dramatized the wild scenes of the Far West. He electrifies Cincinnati audiences nightly.

Yellow Jack.

The Yellow Fever is proving unusually malignant this season. In Shreveport La., but few escape death, after the disease has attacked them. Pollard, Alabama, is suffering terribly. Memphis too comes under the ban. The physicians of the last named city have advised all who could do so, to leave. Montgomery, Mobile, Natchez and other cities of the South have quarantined against the infected cities and towns.

The appearance of frost would damage the farming interests to some extent; but it would drive off this dread disease, whose absence is far preferable to the benefits that might accrue from late frosts.

The Patrons of Husbandry and Trade.

Mr. Livermore, one of the Executive Committee of the Georgia Patrons of Husbandry, in a conversation, with a newspaper reporter at Atlanta, said that—

We have here an offer from a leading bank to furnish the farmers all the money they want at one per cent. a month, if borrowed under the seal of the Grange. It would pay farmers to borrow at two per cent. rather than continue to buy of commission merchants on long time and give crop liens. We have arranged to have all our crops sold by contract and in bulk. To show you what we mean: We have this day closed a contract with an Atlanta cotton buyer, by which we agree to ship him all our cotton and he agrees to sell it for twenty five cents per pound on the late, and twenty-five cents per month for storage. Forsyth, Fort Valley, and other cities do the same thing. Savannah changes seventy-five cents per bale.

We will control at least 100,000 bales. We have one hundred and sixty Granges, with an average membership of forty people—about 6,500. Of these six hundred are farmers. They are of the very best class, and will average twelve bales of cotton each.

The Granges speak of establishing a cotton factory in Atlanta. Gen. Ansell made a proposition to me to-day which I will put before the Granges, and I am pretty certain we will start it here. We are just establishing a large factory in Barnesville for the manufacture of plows, agricultural implements, &c. We are daily discussing the establishment of a State Grange Bank. The most important step probably that we are debating is the forcing of each of our members to raise his own supplies and to make all his ventures do the same; in other words, make Granges thoroughly self sustaining.

OBITUARY. Died—at her residence, two and a half miles from Jacksonville, on 26th Sept. 1873, Miss ELIZABETH A. BROWNING, in the 73rd year of her age. She was born in Georgia, and resided in this county about forty years ago. She was a kind neighbor and warm friend, and had been a member of the M. E. Church for many years.

MARRIED, Thursday 26th at the residence of the bride's father, by Capt. D. P. Forney, Mr. J. J. Deane and Miss J. V. Leach.

the gentleman marched to the relief of Baltimore because he had learned that the British had left, or whether the British left because they heard the gentleman from Pennsylvania was coming?

One great secret of the popularity and political success of the great Kentuckian, was his remarkable memory of names and faces; he never forgot either, although his only acquaintance was a casual introduction in a throng of representations. After a lapse of years he never failed to recognize a party introduced under such circumstances, readily calling the individual by name.

A citizen of a town in Ohio, where the writer resided, was a passenger on the steamer from New Orleans upon which Clay took passage to his home in Kentucky, when returning from his participation in the Treaty of Ghent. It being in the winter season, the steamer was frozen up, a short distance above the mouth of the Ohio and remained ice bound and isolated for some weeks. During this time the Kentucky statesman—always famous for his exuberance of spirits—was the life and soul of the crowd—not only in the cabin, but of the deck passengers and steamboat hands. Among the passengers was an antiquated Frenchman, who opened a game of "keno" in the cabin. There chanced to be a bright and sprightly boy aboard of the boat, to whom Clay had taken a great fancy, and he would frequently buy a card for his youthful favorite. After the game had progressed for some time and all were intent upon their individual interests, Clay would call out "keno" and claim the pool for his youthful protégé. The aged Gaul, completely dumfounded by the logic of the greater, would pay over without demur. Some years afterwards as Clay was passing through Ohio, on his way to attend a sitting of the United States Court at Columbus, the citizens of Lebanon gave him a public reception. At the time of his arrival our informant was standing on the pavement in front of the hotel where he was to stop, not entering for a moment that he would be recognized in the crowd. Stepping from his carriage, Clay singled him out, and shaking him heartily by the hand, laughingly remarked: "C—, do you recollect the old Frenchman and his 'keno' game?"

While the three United States Commissioners, John Quincy Adams, Henry Clay and Albert Gallatin were in London, on their way to Ghent, the party were invited to dine with Viscount Castlereagh, the British Premier. After the dinner, the illustrious host, in a complimentary manner, repeatedly remarked: "like the Kentuckian the best I like the Kentuckian the best."

Clay had a standing joke which he never failed to perpetrate at Adams' expense, when he caught his Massachusetts colleague in a congenial crowd. Adams was afflicted during his whole life with a disease of the lachrymal duct, which caused his eyes to be constantly watery. The two occupied the same apartment, and a rosy and luxuriant Swiss damsel attended the room. Clay's story was that, upon his attempting to snatch a kiss from his kind-souled chambermaid, he was bluffed off with, "Oh Mr. Clay, you must not, for Mr. Adams, a few minutes ago, begged me with tears in his eyes for a similar favor, and I refused him."

It is a well known fact that in early life, as these parties were hunting forth on the sea of politics, there existed a bitter feud between Gen. Jackson and the Bentons. This at last culminated in a tavern fight with pistols and sword canes in Nashville, Tenn., in which Jackson with his friend, Colonel Coffee, and the two Bentons—Thomas H. and Jesse—participated. The result was that Colonel Benton planted a bullet in the fleshy part of General Jackson's arm, which the old hero carried until his second Presidential term, when it was extracted by Dr. Jackson, a celebrated Philadelphia surgeon. During the closing years of his last Presidential term, General Jackson had occasional and violent attacks of hemorrhage of the lungs, and Dr. Lewis Field, M.D. of Missouri, the colleague of Col. Benton in the Senate, was his physician. The bitter feud having long before been settled, Col. Benton was a frequent visitor at the White House, and was specially attentive during the illness of his former foe. Dr. Linn, feeling himself justified by his intimacy with the parties, ventured to ask their version of the Nashville encounter. "Benton, you tell it," was the response of Old Hickory. "No, Jackson I'll leave it to you for your account will be correct;" and pending the discussion, the two ancient foemen were crying like children.

Here is a first-rate home made cement for filling up cracks in an old stove or range. The ingredients are wood, ashes and salt: equal proportion in bulk of each, little less of salt reduced to soap paste with cold water, and fill cracks when the range or stove is cool. The cement will soon become perfectly hard. Fire-clay (procured at the stove-makers) will sometimes answer, but this home-made cement is always at command, where wood is the fuel used.

To Have Apples Every Year. A correspondent of the New York Tribune tells three ways of having apples every year. 1. Take scions from a tree in 1872 and insert them into a good thrifty tree and do the same in 1874 and you will get fruit in alternate years; 2. If you cut off the thrifty trees the growth of 1873 in the last of June, leaving three or four buds that would come out in 1874, you would force out the next year's buds and gain one year; 3. If you remove all the blossoms on one half of your trees in the bearing year, you will have fruit on that half the old year. These things I have done successfully. I have now in bearing the Victory apples of the old year produced in this way; next the scions of the last year will bear in the regular year.

How to Make a Cistern. Editors Rural Sun: I see some of your readers wish to know how to construct a cistern. The best way is to dig your pit the size you wish and to wall it with brick; build a partition wall across it, leaving two thirds or one side.

Leave a number of holes though the bottom of the partition wall about four inches square; then plaster wall with not less than two coats. Fill up on the smallest side of the partition wall with charcoal; then fill up the other side about three feet with coarse sand. Let the water in on the charcoal, letting it pass under the partition wall up through the sand. It will be as pure as a freestone spring. It will have no taste of rain water.
